Notable features:

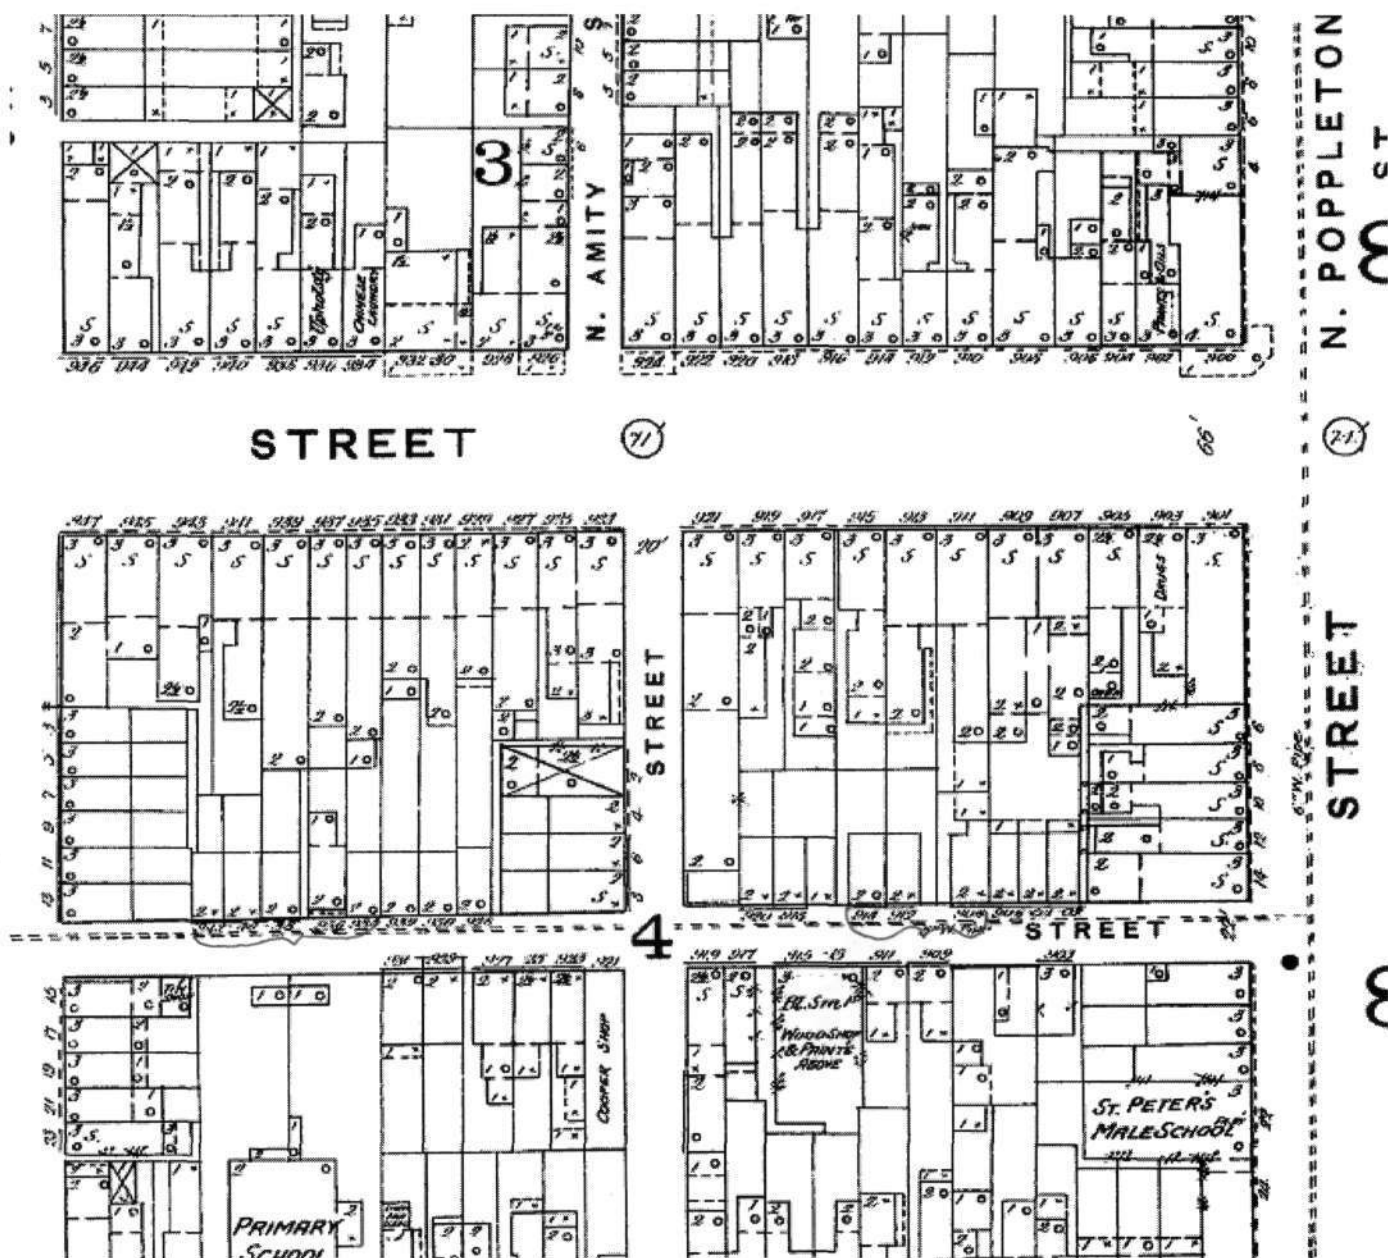

These buildings and lots are a hodge-podge and unsightly. They are used for storage; there is rubbish in the lots that are open. An overall redesign for Baltimore Street, incorporating Booth Street, is needed. Number 928/930 has a rubble stone wall up to about 4½ feet; these, and 932, were probably old stables. Number 912/914 is an old two story gabled house.

Environmental context:

Lots at 908, 916, 936, 940 and 942 Booth Street have been cleared as has 8 S. Amity Street. The remaining house at 938 is vacant. Garages and storage buildings for buildings on Baltimore Street fill most of the frontage; the only occupied residence is at 912/914. The view of wall-to-wall asphalt (the school play ground) does not enhance the site.
